Eqwal Strengthens its U.S. Presence with the Integration of Voyage Medical Solutions and Its Affiliated Companies

Eqwal announces the acquisition of Voyage Medical Solutions, a recognized Durable Medical Equipment (DME) provider headquartered in Longview, Texas, along with its affiliated companies ProsthetiCare in Fort Worth, Texas, and The Brace Center in Bedford, Texas.

Bringing together more than 60 employees, Voyage Medical Solutions delivers a comprehensive range of off-the-shelf medical devices including prosthetics, orthotics, bracing solutions, mobility aids, circulatory support systems, and bone-growth stimulators.

Voyage Medical Solutions is led by its founding team, CEO and Co-Founder Justin Jenkins, COO and Co-Founder Jennifer Jenkins and CFO and Co-Founder Matthew Hickman. They will continue to oversee operations, ensuring continuity and stability among employees, partners, and patients.

ProsthetiCare and The Brace Center further strengthen Eqwal's expertise in prosthetics, orthotics, sports bracing, and DME billing services.

"By integrating Voyage Medical Solutions into Eqwal, we add a new dimension to our commitment: expanding access to high-quality mobility solutions while preserving the entrepreneurial spirit of the teams who built these organizations. This is a major step in our North American development."

Jean-Pierre Mahé, CEO of Eqwal
