Eqwal continues its growth in the United States with the acquisition of Atlantic Pro Care.

Based in Portland, Maine, USA, Atlantic Pro Care specializes in caring for people with lower or upper limb disabilities, as well as those with spinal conditions. Founded and led by John-Paul Donovan, its approach focuses on the needs and goals of each patient, combining personalized care, clinical expertise, and support to help each individual regain mobility, independence, and quality of life.

At Atlantic Pro Care, support goes beyond the design and provision of a medical device. The team is committed to providing comprehensive care that combines needs assessment, clinical support, device manufacturing and fitting, as well as training and rehabilitation, to help patients regain their mobility and lead as active and fulfilling a life as possible.

This partnership fully aligns with Eqwal's strategy to strengthen its expertise in Patient Care in the United States. The integration of Atlantic Pro Care enables the Group to consolidate its specialized care offering, while benefiting from a strong local presence and recognized expertise in the United States.
